If you are a young person in crisis, you can text DA to 85258. Trained volunteers will listen to how you're feeling and help you think through the next step towards feeling better. Texts are free from EE, O2, Vodafone, 3, Virgin Mobile, BT Mobile, GiffGaff, Tesco Mobile and Telecom Plus. This service is powered by our trusted partner, Crisis Text Line and can help with a range of urgent issues including bullying. You can text free and anonymously – although if the volunteer believes you are at immediate risk of harm, they may share your details with people who can provide support. The Anti-Bullying Alliance is a coalition of organisations that are united against bullying. They have a range of information that is aimed at supporting parents and carers to support their children. They also explain how schools might manage bullying situations and how parents can work with schools to the benefit of their children. Kidscape's Parent Advice Line offer friendly, impartial, non-judgemental information, advice and support to parents, carers, family members or professionals who are concerned about a child – either because they are being bullied, or because they may be involved in bullying others. Bullying can happen anywhere – inside and outside of school, in the community, in the home and online. Kidscape also offer some online support for young people – please use the link.
